Interaction design

The Good and the Bad Design

We would say that we cannot give only 3 things we are proud of and things we aren't proud of. We cannot say which is the thing we like the most so we are going to say that these designs are all equal to each other and we are proud of them equally.

1. The "Get started" button design is one of the things to behold when you hover over it. It gives a glow of different colors. It can make the user happy and get in the mood for studying.
2. We are happy with the admin role which give teachers the ability to add, edit and delete lectures. The simple and minimalistic way makes it easy for tutors to work with Moogul.
3. The last interaction design we are proud of is the simple yet cool interaction with the photos of the teachers. This minimalistic yet, interactive way gives life to the page, which Canvas does have.

What we are not proud of is the "Challenges" and "Assignment" pages. We should've been more creative. This isn't a bad thing of course. If we had more time we would most likely fix them as well.
